The theme for this, the 1952 Eaglet, is television because, with its continual strides in refinement and advancement, it reflects the various goals we are striving to reach and the milestones passed in attaining these goals.

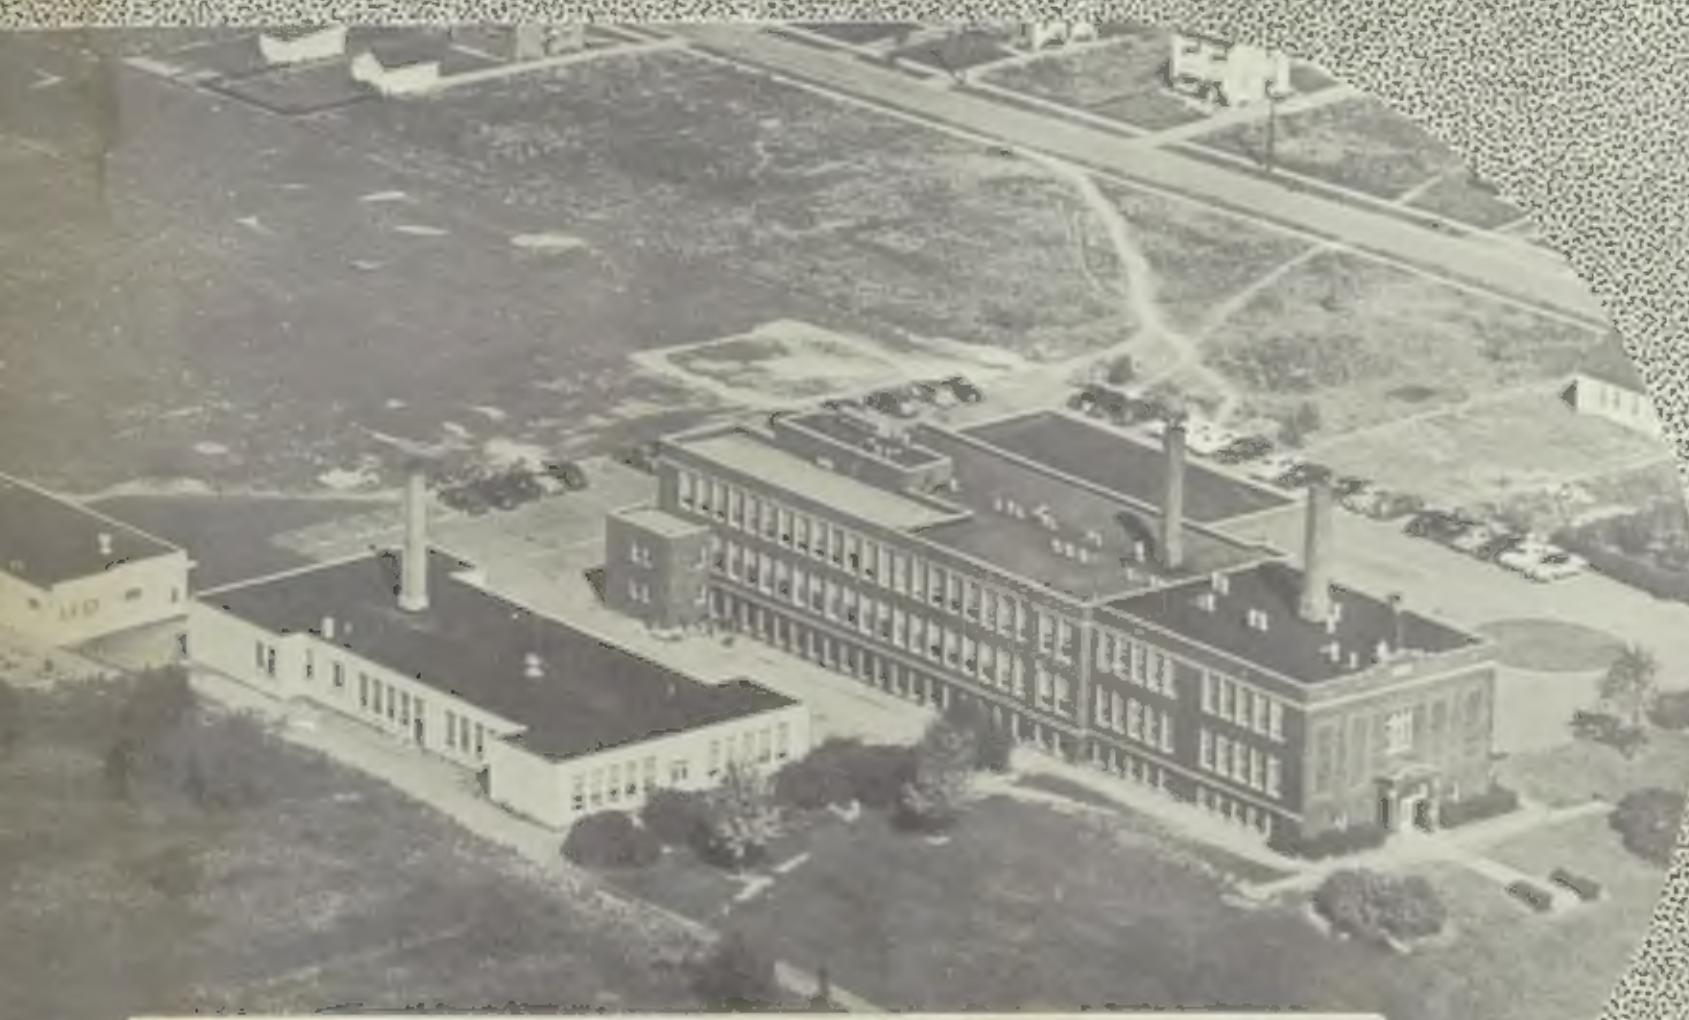

Television not only can tell its own story of pioneering, hardships, disappointments, and final achievement and success, but best tells our story also.

We have easily seen how the television set has become influential in the homes across our nation and hope that it exemplifies the influence we shall have and the part we shall play in everyday living.

As you familiarize yourself with our book, you will more fully appreciate the comparisons we have drawn from our theme.

So, good reading and enjoyment to you as you tune in the programs broadcast by our station, WBNS. With sharp focusing, you'll get a clear picture of what goes on in Brooklyn.

Dedicated . . . To Our Directors

A well-written show with even the best of actors, but without a director could never be produced for a director is indispensable in telling us where and how to play the part because a director sees us as others see us.

The director must be a person of infinite patience and faith-concerning himself with straightening the problem involved and encouraging the players, not only in times of triumph, and success, but in times of discouragement and despair - led on in thought, word, and action by that intangible but realistic ideal of the finished masterpiece - of human lives so coached and trained as to play well any part in life.

Of our directors, we can be proud for they have not only well directed our show - but, more important, have been our constant friends and examples. To them we dedicate this, the 1952 Eaglet, in hopes that we may face any of life's various roles with the last of their words of encouragement foremost in our minds.

Unselfishly giving both his time and abilities in all our many class activities, he has become invaluable as a close friend, and much sought after for practical advice.

Held high in our esteem for his deep understanding and personal contact with us, knowing him these past short years has been more than worth-while.

Georgiana Skinner

During the last school year, the students of Brooklyn High deeply felt the loss of one of their teachers who by her actions was a friend to be treasured. With the passing away of Miss Georgiana Skinner, all our hearts were saddened with the thought of losing someone who could have continued doing so much good and giving us so much beyond that which is found in books if she were allowed to be with us.

May we ever remember her for all she did and for what she stood, and far surpass all the hopes and dreams she had for each of us.

A message from Our Superintendent

Members of the Class of 1952:—

It has been our aim to help you become well adjusted young people. School should and can be, just as happy as home should and can be, a place of beauty and contentment with enjoyable activities and an appreciation and recognition of varied personalities. We learn and continue to live that which we do and not what we talk about. We have endeavored to help you develop academically, socially, emotionally, and physically. Each is important and each must be developed as fully as possible. Learning is integrating the total growth pattern. We aim to develop young people who can cooperate, recognize the rights of others, respect others, lead when necessary, follow when necessary and be happy and emotionally adjusted doing either.

I extend my sincere congratulations upon completion of your high school activities.

Clerk

Introducing the cast, we have the Brooklyn City Board of Education headed by Mr. John S. Backus, President.

Working together in this capacity, all their efforts are directed toward better serving the community and offering more and better educational facilities to the students at Brooklyn. One of their main objectives is to attract and hold well qualified outstanding teachers.

Always planning for the future, under the present building plan, Roadoan Elementary school will be completed by the fall of 1952. Plans are almost complete for the high school auditorium to be added to the front of the present building. This addition should be completed by September of 1953.

With the continued support of the people of Brooklyn, our board may be expected to complete all their aims and goals.

Ever take a trip through a studio?

Come with us, won't you, as we visit station WBHS to get a better glimpse of life behind the scenes at Brooklyn?

Brains of the entire outfit is the office and its capable staff. Here we come to get our absent or tardy slips, to receive vocational guidance from our principal, Mr. Nieman, to check on our class schedules, or merely to chat with secretary Miss Daley or old good-day to our superintendent, Mr. Rice.

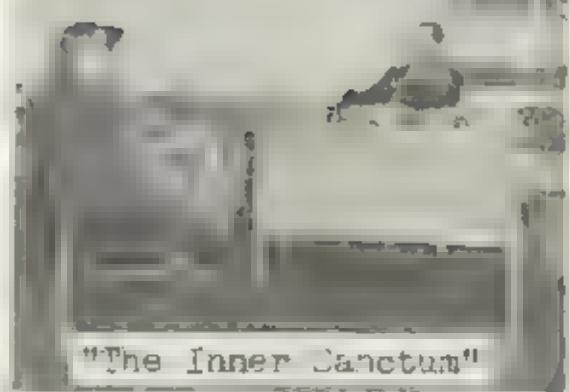

Probably most noticeable is the eagerness with which the 371 students participate in the school's variety of "programs" offered. There, one may prepare for college entrance by taking the "academic course"; for immediate post graduate working positions by following the commercial course; or pursue the general course for a good sound basis in a variety of fields. Added attractions may include our drivers training class-now two years old.

The "props" in our production include 2,796 textbooks available to our students. If stacked side by side they would require a shelf the length of a football field. Five-hundred of them, or the equivalent of two first-downs, are to be replaced this year.

In the course of their studies, many of our teachers find field trips both interesting and valuable for class learning. This year, as part of their American Problems course, the Seniors went to The Federal Reserve Bank in downtown Cleveland; the Sophomores visited the History Museum in conjunction with their World History class while the art class toured the Cleveland Art Museum, seeing movies, and enjoying lectures. The Biology class and several gym classes visited the Health Museum, the Freshmen science class visited Nela Park, and the home economics class profited much by touring Printz Biederman's Clothing Manufacturers. The Juniors turned to the more elite by attending the annual Shakespearean Festival and thoroughly enjoyed the comedy "As You Like It".

Pledging itself to better and better education in the typical American way, our school again was privileged to send its Seniors to the Ohio State Employment Agency to take the Vocational Aptitude Test. This test, designed to best find our individual aptitudes in over two-thousand occupations, helped our Seniors in selecting their future vocations. In the Ohio State Scholarship Exam, Seniors Walter Hamilton, Dan Sholtis, and Don Brown all topped the ninetieth percentile, thus each receiving an honorable mention award. This spring Patricia Hannan attended a meeting of the Security Council of the United Nations in New York, getting an opportunity to talk with many of the delegates. Later on in an assembly, she told of her trip and the experiences encountered.

Added incentive toward making better grades in their subjects, all students may attain mention on either the Honor Roll or Merit Roll after every six weeks grading period. Grades must average a numerical 3.5 to attain Honor Roll rating and a 3.0 to attain Merit Roll standing.

Students consistently making high grades combining their scholastic zest with the principles of citizenship, leadership, and service are candidates for the National Honor Society. To enter this exclusive group, pupils must have maintained a 3.45 grade average at the end of their Sophomore year, a 3.0 average at the end of their Junior year, and a 2.75 point average at the end of their Senior year. Early this year three-year member Don Brown and Juniors Gerry Deas and Pat Kreshak comprised the entire society. Then in May, Seniors Jeanette Jokilehto, Pat Hannan, Walter Hamilton, and Junior Louise Mitchell were admitted along with naming ~~new~~ Letzel and ~~new~~ as prob. members.

ACT I

The stage is set...

Playing minor roles, but as confident and eager as possible, we elected Don Brown as Class President, Phyllis Seymour as Vice President, Secretary, Richard Feffer and Treasurer, Raymond Cayet.

When the Annual School Carnival came around, we found ourselves setting the stage for a fortune-tellin booth, which proved to be loads of fun for all. But unlike our experience in the carnival events, we knew we needed much practice in the One-Act-Play Festival, taking place later in the year. Receiving roles in the play, "United States," were Don Brown, Kathryn Kresge, Pat Hanan, Jim List and Ron Bormann.

As Act I came to an end, we ave time to thank our advisors, Mrs. Hoelzele and Mrs. Brumale, who directed us through the various projects we undertook.

ACT II

The plot thickens

After the election of the Class Officers, it was decided that Don Brown as Class President, and Mrs. Haller as Vice President, Mayllis Seymour and Mr. Buckley as Secretary and Treasurer, and Mr. Buckley as Class Advisor for the year 1933-1934. Mr. Buckley and Mr. Buckley.

Students and the new officers, Mr. Haller and Mrs. Haller, were in the lead.

The carnival was again our first big event, and this year we introduced a new and exciting shot, which attracted many enthusiasts.

In February, we sponsored our first dance called "Cupid's Capers." A surprising large crowd attended and added greatly to our class treasury.

ACT II:

SCENE 2

In the dramatic field, Don Brown showed acting ability by being inducted into the National Thespian Society. Our One-Act Play for the year was Flight of the Herons, starring Jeanette Jokilehto, Irene Moricz, Don Brown, Pat Hannan and Charles Gilmore. While in the field of sports, we find our true sportsmen, Kervi, Kuhns, Cran, Cedeon, Donovan, Gilmore, Kerkhoff, and J. Zast understudying for future roles as stars.

Ending our happy and well-experienced sophomore year, our President Don Brown achieved the highest scholastic honor possible by being welcomed into the National Honor Society.

ACT III

Approaching the "climax"

As Juniors we found that this year uniquely proven to be the most active for the majority definitely proved to be for us.

As our officers this year we elected Eugene Gedeon President, with Ethel Halmayr, Jeanette Jokilehto and Walter Hamilton as Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer respectively.

In basketball, our class was represented by two captains—Red Gedeon, Varsity Captain, and Jim Kuhns Reserve Captain. While in girl's sports, another member of our class, Jeanette Jokilehto had been elected captain of the cheerleaders.

At almost the closing of the year, we enthusiastically and very successfully sponsored the Junior-Senior Banquet.

ACT IV

The "grand finale"

As Act Four began, we as Seniors solemnly looked forward to our eventual goals in life, and realized that setting the plot for our future years was a difficult task.

Our class officers for the year were Walter Hamilton, President, Don Brown, Vice President, Joyce Foote, Secretary and Wayne Hervi, Treasurer.

The Annual Snowball, which we sponsored, had to be canceled several times because of bad weather conditions, therefore bringing a very small crowd to the dance, when it was held January 25.

But now concerned with producing the best annual ever, we proceeded to make preparations for it and forgot about the outcome of the dance very soon.

ACT IV:

SCENE 2

... field of honor, we again were given on the football field and the captain of the team was our own Jim Lee.

As usual, Ned Edmon again became County Poul Shooting Champion and Wayne Hervi, our able Captain of the Varsity squad was honored as an "All-County." For the second year, Jeanette Jokilehto was again a member of the cheerleaders with another member of the class, Joyce Foote joining the squad, and helping to bring home the cheerleading trophy for the second consecutive year.

The lone senior member of the 1952 class squad was Thomas Loncova, hurdler and sprinter, who certainly proved to be a valuable asset.

Stencil Study

ACT IV: SCENE 3

As their final effort in the dramatic field the Seniors staged the comedy, "Elizabeth's Young Man", for the One-Act Play Festival. Don Brown playing the title role, was mistaken for a psychopath by the maiden aunt portrayed by Rita Haller and her busy-body neighbor with Irene Moricz cast in that part. Kathryn Kresge enacted the young newly-wed, Elizabeth.

As their final class get-together, the Seniors picnicked at Chippewa Lake Park, forgetting momentarily school and its on-coming final exams and the not too distant graduation exercises.

And so, the curtain falls on one of the greatest spectacles ever produced. Although the four year drama of the class of '52 had its moments of joy, sorrow and disappointment, its final sentiment is one of achievement, for it has successfully taken that first step in preparing for the individual roles its members are to play in later life.

A senior's thought on the future.

Graduation night of the year.

Congratulations, Valedictorian and Salutatorian!

"Curtain Call"...

The Seniors take a final bow!

On Sunday June 1, 1952 they sat in solemn dignity and listened to the inspiring message of Rev. W. Thomas Applebee, pastor of the Brooklyn Community Church as he delivered the Baccalaureate Sermon.

Baccalaureate

On Thursday, May 29, as guests of the Class of '53, they made their last social fling as high school students - dancing to the music of Bobby Hanson and his orchestra at the Lakeshore Country Club, scene of the Junior-Senior Prom.

Junior Senior Prom

On Thursday, June 5, the "Show of Shows" marched to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance and took their last stand as undergraduates. After speeches by Valedictorian Donald H. Brown and Salutatorian Jeanette Jokilehto, president Walter Hamilton presented the class gavel to the president of next year's senior class.

Dr. Robert I. White, Dean of the College of Education of Kent State University, then addressed the Seniors after which they were presented their diplomas and became Alumni.

"Understudies"

Any good TV star has his understudy and this year the seniors have the most talented crop of understudies ever seen. Under the able direction of the seniors have the most talented crop of understudies ever seen. Starting their high school careers in their Freshman year by selecting the parts they'd someday like to play, they eagerly look forward to the time they will step into the spotlight, take the lead, and let their own show roll. Serving them in the main broadcasting station are fifteen of the latest equipped studios. These include two labs, a specially equipped home economics room, shop, and music room, a library containing 2500 volumes, and the largest athletic gym in the country. All of these plus our eight classrooms are where our wide variety of programs originate.

Next in the limeLight . . .

As our television picture comes into focus, the cast of juniors is hustling and bustling getting ready for the annual "Sadie Hawkins Dance." After the exciting race, the crowd rested and had cider and donuts. No sooner was the dance over than preparations to set the scene of the carnival were made. The turkey raffle and football toss were featured in the show.

Snow had fallen, and was beginning to thaw when the sharp winds blew around the corner bringing signs of March and of the "Shamrock Shuffle Dance" that was successfully presented on March 14.

The scene changed as the girls were looking dreamy eyed at formals and prospects for the most memorable time of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. The banquet was held in the school cafeteria. Speeches were given by the senior and junior class presidents, after which the senior prophecy was read. The band music of Bobby Hanson filled the Lake Shore Country Club air, while the pleasant surroundings and gay atmosphere was enjoyed by all attending.

And so the curtain falls on the command performance of the junior class of '53.

As we enter "studios 9 and 10", we find both freshmen and sophomores busy at the carnival. The 9th grade presented the Apple Toss while the sophomores sponsored the Roll-a-Block. Both of these undertakings were successful and the casts took pride in participating in them. After the carnival was over, the Sophomore cast kept themselves occupied planning their Valentine Dance, the "Lassie's Leap". Departing from the usual routine, the "Lassie's Leap" was a dance to which the girls invited the boys.

Next on the list were the One-Act Plays. The Sophomores ran a close second with their play, "Let's Make Up". For their first attempt at dramatics the freshmen presented the rousing comedy "Who's Afraid". Practice and skill showed throughout each of these plays.

Both the 9th and 10th grade casts are proud of their achievements and are confident that they will be able, when the time arrives, to step into the major role of an upperclassmen.

the Show

Ready and eager to step into larger roles, the seventh and eighth grades have worked hard during their formative years and each class is now well-prepared to proceed one step further in their careers.

They played their parts well at the Annual School Carnival with the seventh grade featuring the Clown Toss and the eighth grade the Ping-Pong Throw.

During the year, the Jr. High, with the aid of their sponsors, planned their courses in preparation for entering high school.

tackle,

Memories, memories, yes, all of us will recall in our memories the gridiron season of 1951. To seven of the seniors, Captain James Kuhns, William Cran, Thomas Donovan, Eugene Gedeon, Charles Gilmore, Wayne Hervi, and Dennis Kerkhoff, who played football throughout their high school years, this marked the end of their high school football careers. The year of '51 wasn't a very prosperous one, but the spirit between the players and coaches, Robert Buckley, James Karikas, and Stephen Randolph kept the players fighting every inch of the way.

The memory of football takes us back to the night of Friday, September 7th, as our Blue and Gold played in the Medical Fund Preview at Cuyahoga Heights. The Hurricanes played a half-hour game with the h.s.s of the program, Heights, and came out on the short end of 7-0 score.

In this first game, head cheerleader Jeanette Jokilehto introduced little Katy Kuhns, the cheerleader mascot. Helen Novak and Rose Gulian, returning cheerleaders of the previous year, helped Joyce Foote, Nancy Cran, and Carol Mitchell to "relax" in their first taste of varsity cheerleading.

On September 14th, a very warm afternoon, the Hurricanes played at Orange High School. Brooklyn scored nineteen points against the East County Champions to Orange's forty-five. These nineteen points were the highest amount to be registered against Orange in two years of football.

The points were supplied on touchdowns by Wayne Hervi, Bernie Matyk, and Red Gedeon, and a placement by Bob Finowski.

The 21st of September the Hurricanes were guests of Olmsted Falls. The game was played in the afternoon as Olmsted defeated our Blue and Gold, 3-1. T D's were made by Bob Finowski and Red Gedeon in a yard plunge into the end zone. Finowski also made a placement.

The 30th of September the Hurricanes played a s for the first time of the season to North Olmsted. With Olmsted walking off the field with the win, 24-2. At this game, the Brooklyn band proudly marched down the field in their new blue and gold uniforms under the direction of Mr. J. Phillips and head majorette Janice Dregalla. The band played in the Annual Main Dealer Charity Game on November 1st.

On October 11th Brooklyn lost a thriller to Westlake, 13-6, on the Hurricane's field. Jim Kuhns scored the lone touchdown for Brooklyn as a large number of fans were on hand at the game.

October 12th Brooklyn played at North Royalton, visiting the Dads of the ball players. As the Dads sat on the Hurricanes bench, they were entertained by the combined bands of Brooklyn and North Royalton. The bands made a formation of a pipe with smoke coming out of the pipe. The bands marched to the songs of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and "What's the Matter with Father?" The bands also formed a D-A-D as the cheerleaders did a "D-A-D Rah!" In this game, on the second play of the contest, quarterback Gene Gedeon received a broken ankle and was out for the remainder of the season. The final score read North Royalton 26, Brooklyn 0. Following the game, refreshments were served for the players and Dads by the Men's Booster Club in the high school cafeteria.

It was on Thursday, October 18, that the Hurricanes played host for the last time this season to Bay Village. Bay shut out our Brooks by a 36-0 score.

The Hurricanes played their last league game as Strongsville's guest, on Strongsville's Homecoming Night, October 26. This game was by far the best game of the year for the Blue and Gold as they tied the Terrors, 7-7. Bill Cran scored from the 2 yard line and Bob Finowski booted the extra point to account for all Brooklyn's scoring. In this game, Bill Cran received Honorable Mention in the Cleveland Press.

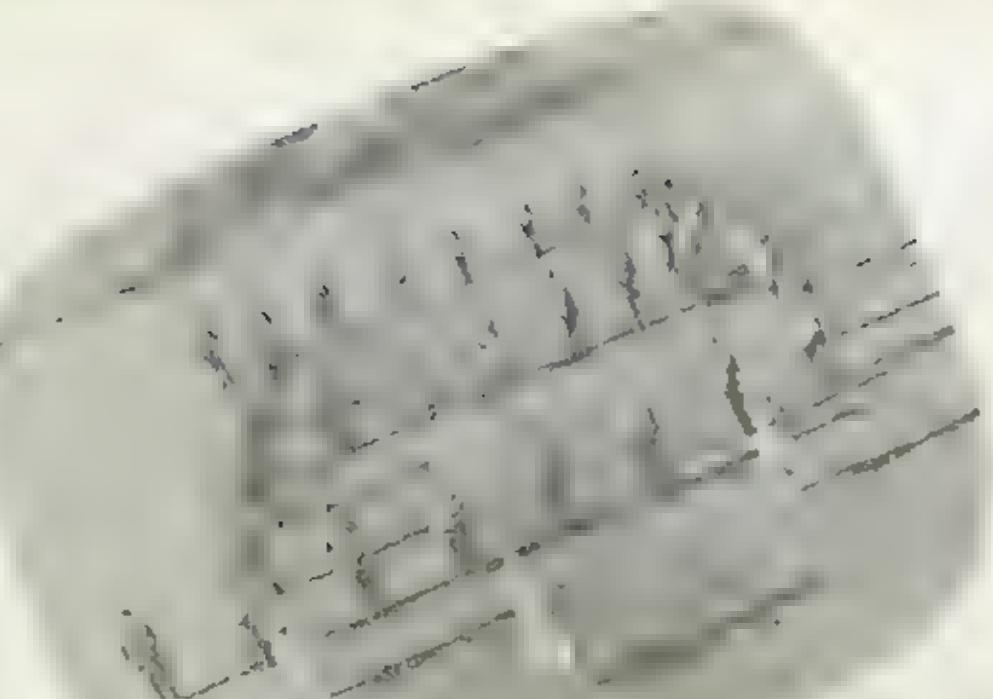

Brooklyn's last game, scheduled for November 2nd, was postponed because of inclement weather. On November 5th, the game was played at Cuyahoga Heights on a snow covered field. It was the first taste of winter football weather for both teams as they fought hard with Heights coming out on top, 4-0, but the game will long be remembered by the Seniors, for it was the last game for them to play for Brooklyn and others to cheer for their Alma Mater.

Rich Hennings sprinted 56 yards and Bill Cran raced 63 yards for T D's. Jim Kuhns made the final D on a 5 yard plunge as Bob Finowski again kicked it after the touchdown.

Brooklyn has a record of 22 players, as per the record book, to be congratulated. They have made for our Undefeated! Yes, this word clearly described the season of Junior High Football as the seventh and eighth grade boys, coached by Mr. Garn and Mr. Graham, were undefeated in their 3 game scheduled season.

For the first time in Brooklyn's history the Junior High was granted a football team. Some 35 boys, the future athletes of Brooklyn High, went out for this sport and gave a fine showing.

No sooner had the football season faded, than the 1951-52 Brooklyn Hurricanes basketball team, coached by Mr. Robert T. Buckley, started their season with nightly practices - conditioning themselves for the heavy seventeen-game schedule ahead. Led by returning senior lettermen-Bill Cram, "Red" Gedeon, Jim Kuhns, and Wayne Hervi, Juniors-Rich Hennings, Hud Heidorf, Dick Purcell, Tom Hlaha, Bob Pinowski, Richard Danchisin, and Ray Kohut completed the formidable-looking team. Wayne Hervi was elected captain and Matt Heidorf and Mel Petrov were the capable managers.

Personal highlight of the season was "Red" Gedeon's winning a trophy for his record accomplishments in the foul-shooting contest at the Cleveland Arena. Sinking eighteen of twenty shots easily won the contest for "Red" among sharp-eyed competitors from schools all over the county. In the meantime, Wayne Hervi was selected by the News and Press as a member of the All West-County Team.

Toward the second half of their league campaign, the Hurricanes gained strength and became a real threat to many of the stronger teams in the West County and proved it by knocking off a few of the top teams. Participating in the "County 3" tournaments at the Baldwin Wallace Fieldhouse, Brooklyn, behind Chagrin in the first three quarters, came out in front in the final quarter to beat Chagrin. In the second conflict, Independence, East County champions, defeated the Hurricanes, 59-55. This time Brooklyn led in the first three quarters, but fell behind in the final quarter.

The highest number of points scored individually was 25 points, accomplished by both Bob Finowski and Wayne Hervi. Wayne Hervi, high scorer of Brooklyn, placed fourth in the county. The experience paid off as the season was more successful than those of the past few years.

"Globetrotters" (gr. edition)

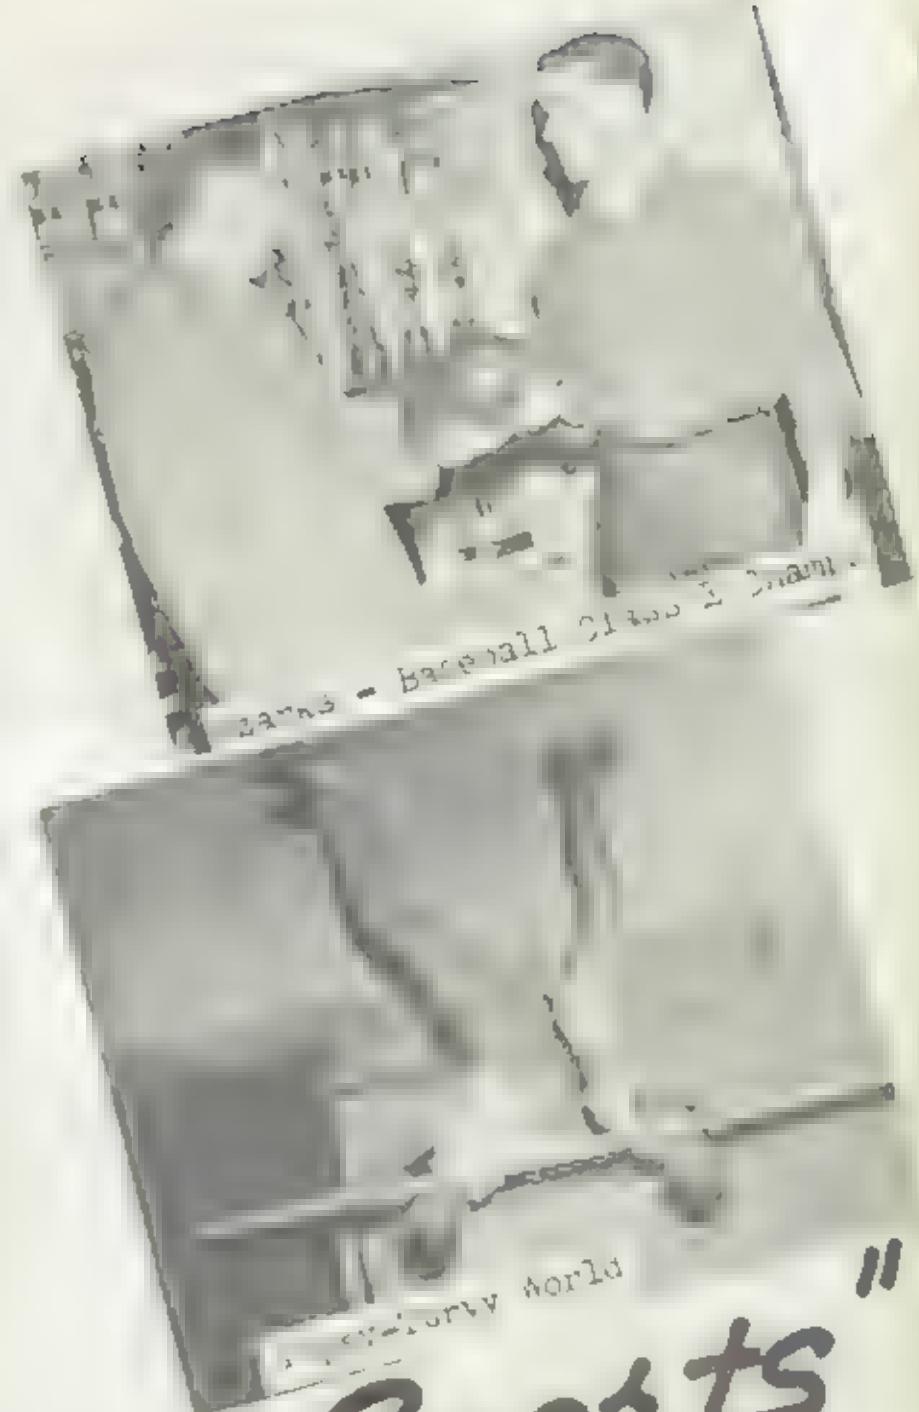

The Junior High basketball team of 1951-52 had the most successful record of any 8th grade team in Brooklyn's sport history, none excluded. The Hurricanes blazed through ten league games without a defeat and wound up undisputed champions of the junior high basketball race.

The first team consisted of John Faller and Jerry Jauch at forward, Gary Cantwell and Jim Crytzer at guard and Jim Gallaher at center. Adding to his team's strength was Gary Cantwell who earned top scoring honors in the Junior High loop, to lead his team to the title. Gary scored 133 points in the 10 game schedule.

The boys' gym classes this year have been full of the fun and excitement that usually go with this form of education. With a variety of activities being offered, football started off the season, with badminton and shuffleboard interspersed among the winter months. Tumbling was next on the program followed by volleyball, basketball, and during the warmer spring and summer months the old national favorite, baseball. All in all, the boys thoroughly enjoyed the gym classes this year and benefited greatly from their participation in the range of games and sports offered at Brooklyn.

Basketball again dominated the intramural sports picture as five colorfully named teams traded their bucket-sinking abilities. Included were the Five Aces, The Harlems, The Bums, The Clowns and the Continental Coolerators. Squeezing their games between varsity practice periods after school, the boys did manage to play three games. Champions in the eyes of everyone concerned and proven in the score books, were the Five Aces who copped all three of their games to take undisputed first place in the intramural basketball race of 1951-52. The team consisted of Captain Don Currier, Ray Krumheuer, John Zust, George Naperta and Tom Donavon.

The Brooklyn track team of 1952 looks very promising, considering the limited number of boys on the team. What they didn't have in manpower, they certainly had in spirit and showed it at the Indoor Track Meet held annually at the Arena by compiling 12 points against six of the toughest teams. The boys will be out to better last year's records such as Ron Keating's time of 20 seconds flat in the 180 yard low hurdles which is a county and district record, and Teddy Wachs' time of 10.4 in the 100 yard dash which he set at the North Olmstead Invitational. Both these records were set during the 1951 track season. The Brooklyn team last year finished 3rd in both the county and district meets which should be a goal for the present team to strive for and which they surely hope to top. Racing against time and stamina, this year's thinclads are Dick Purcell and Tom Donovan in the high hurdles; Hud Heidorf in the discus and 440; Rich Hennings in the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash and broad jump; Bob Finowski in the 880 yard run. All of them performed with the hope of being prospects for the state meet with only the proven best having their wishes fulfilled.

The C.A.A. found that close cooperation in social activities as well as sports is a necessity and proved this by sponsoring a highly successful "Spook House" at the school. The "spooks" made by the girls were both frightening and amusing.

A goal for any enthusiastic C.A.A. member is to be selected for service on the newly formed "girls' leader's club." Helping the girls' physical education instructor, Mrs. Fosgai, they take roll, check showers and "girl" games. Two of the members, large Weiss and Janice Dregalla, received their national basketball rating. Outside classes, the leaders participate in many days with other schools and on excursions of their own such as going swimming.

Throughout the year, the C.A.A. have learned to run on the parallel bars, ladder, and the trapeze board. While the minor high is more enthusiastic in tumbling and gymnastics.

"What's my line?"

... LAUGH and FUN between shows is a keynote to a happy, healthy, and friendly cart. At Brooklyn, eleven organized clubs provide the activity with which its students keep themselves occupied and are an outlet for the energies of the entire company. vastly varying in their functions and purposes, any high school pupil should find at least one (and in most instances more) that is appealing to him. Some seem to be so traditional as to be as old as Brooklyn itself - others are born and die each year. At any rate, clubs and their enthusiastic participants are always welcome for they offer a "balance" to our studies and help round out our educational program - in the end producing a better citizen.

"Good Neighbors"

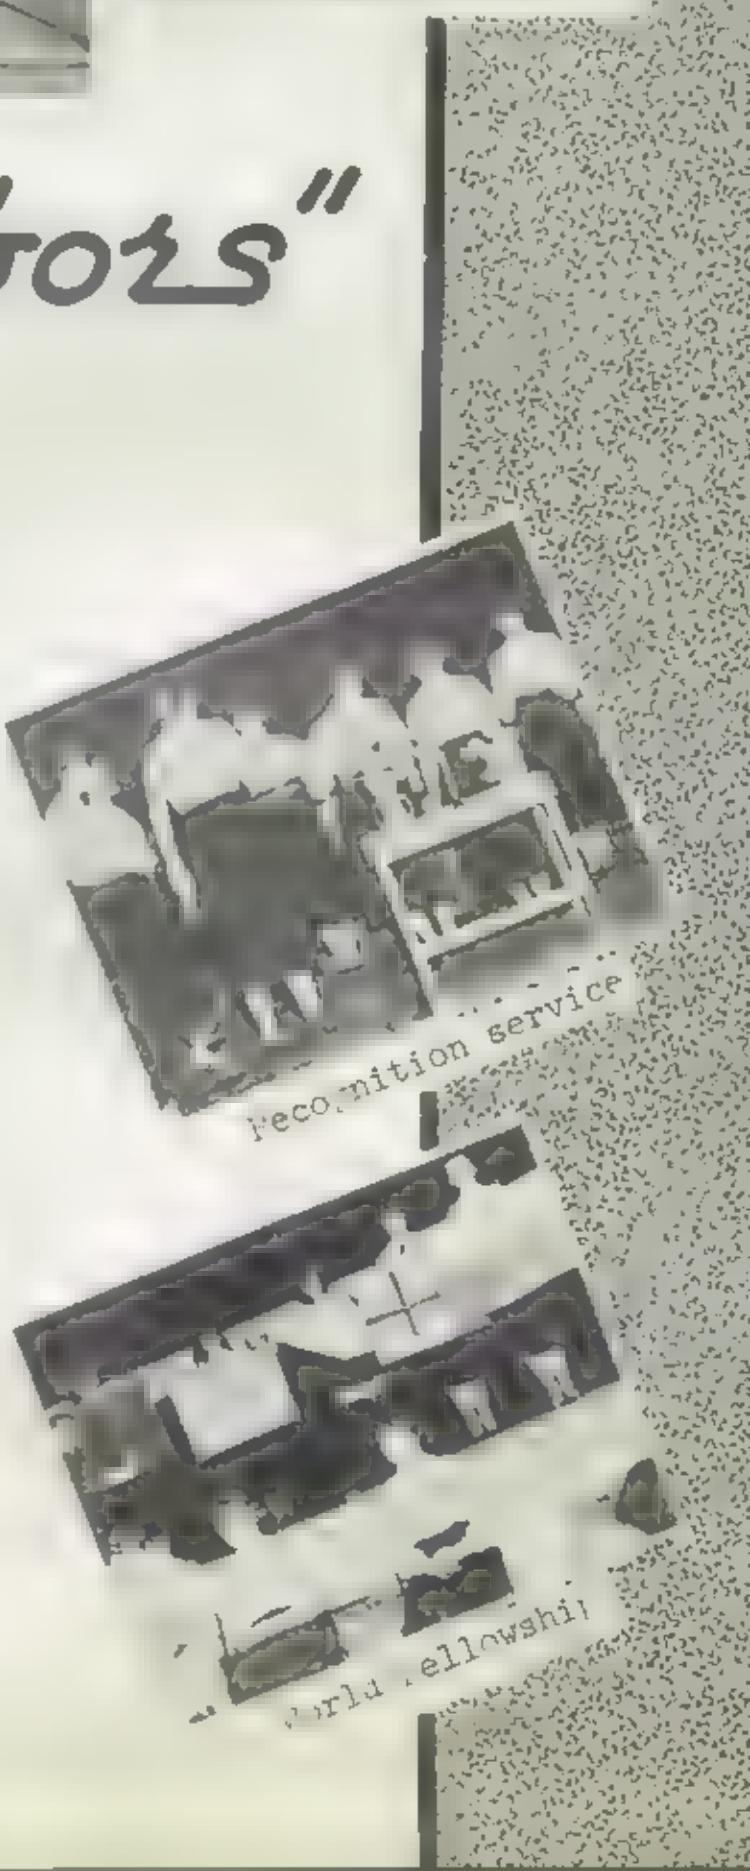

Striving always toward fellowship and understanding, the Y-Teens staged many successful and memorable programs throughout the school year.

Their programs included a beautiful and inspiring Recognition Service at which time new members were inducted, the Showboat at the Carnival featuring music and comedy to delight the capacity audiences attending the show, a Get-Acquainted Party for the entire school and a Secret Sister Week climaxed by a pot-luck supper and gift exchange. Their last event together was a picnic held near the end of the school year.

As service projects they sent candy bars to Hong Kong and contributed to the World Fellowship Fund by measuring their waists-a penny an inch.

The club felt deep regret at the loss of their sponsor, Miss Georgiana Skinner. Her loyalty, devotion, friendship and untiring efforts as their sponsor and teacher were recognized by a simple memorial service sponsored by the Y-Teens. The beauty and sincerity of the service was an inspiration to the student body as well as the Y-Teens.

Acting as our international news reporters the World Affairs Club was organized to study, discuss and gain more and clearer knowledge of our country and its relationships with other peoples and nations.

Under the supervision of the Council on World Affairs the club was fortunate to have as a speaker, Mr. Robert Spurrier, head of the Youth Department of the Council on World Affairs.

The group worked continuously toward its main goal, the financing of a delegate to the United Nations Assembly at Lake Success, New York. This was accomplished by the sale of taffy and Valentine candy throughout the year.

Chosen as Brooklyn's representative was Patricia Hannan. Patricia was fortunate in seeing the United Nations Assembly in action, visiting various foreign delegations and witnessing the first meeting of the Security Council in their new headquarters at Lake Success.

One of the newest and most exclusive programs in the station WBHS schedule is the Varsity "B" club. Organized in 1951 the membership of this club is comprised of high school boys who have earned a letter award in football, basketball, or track and are still enrolled at Brooklyn. The members are not all active as far as actually mixing with the opponents are concerned, because a lot of credit goes to the coaches and the endless workers, the managers. All these people are honorable members of this club.

"Shopper's Special"

The school store, under the supervision of Mrs. J. Brodt, makes it possible for students to obtain school supplies they need without the trouble of having to go elsewhere for these necessary materials.

Those who transact the sales are Irene Moricz, Jeanette Jokilehto, Audrey Kluender, Geraldine Deas, Claudia Starr, and Rita Kuhar.

During the 1951-52 school year, our students consumed 4,052 pencils, 1,500 composition books, 576 stenographer notebooks, 1,500 envelopes, 5,800 packs of notebook paper, and 300 pencil erasers.

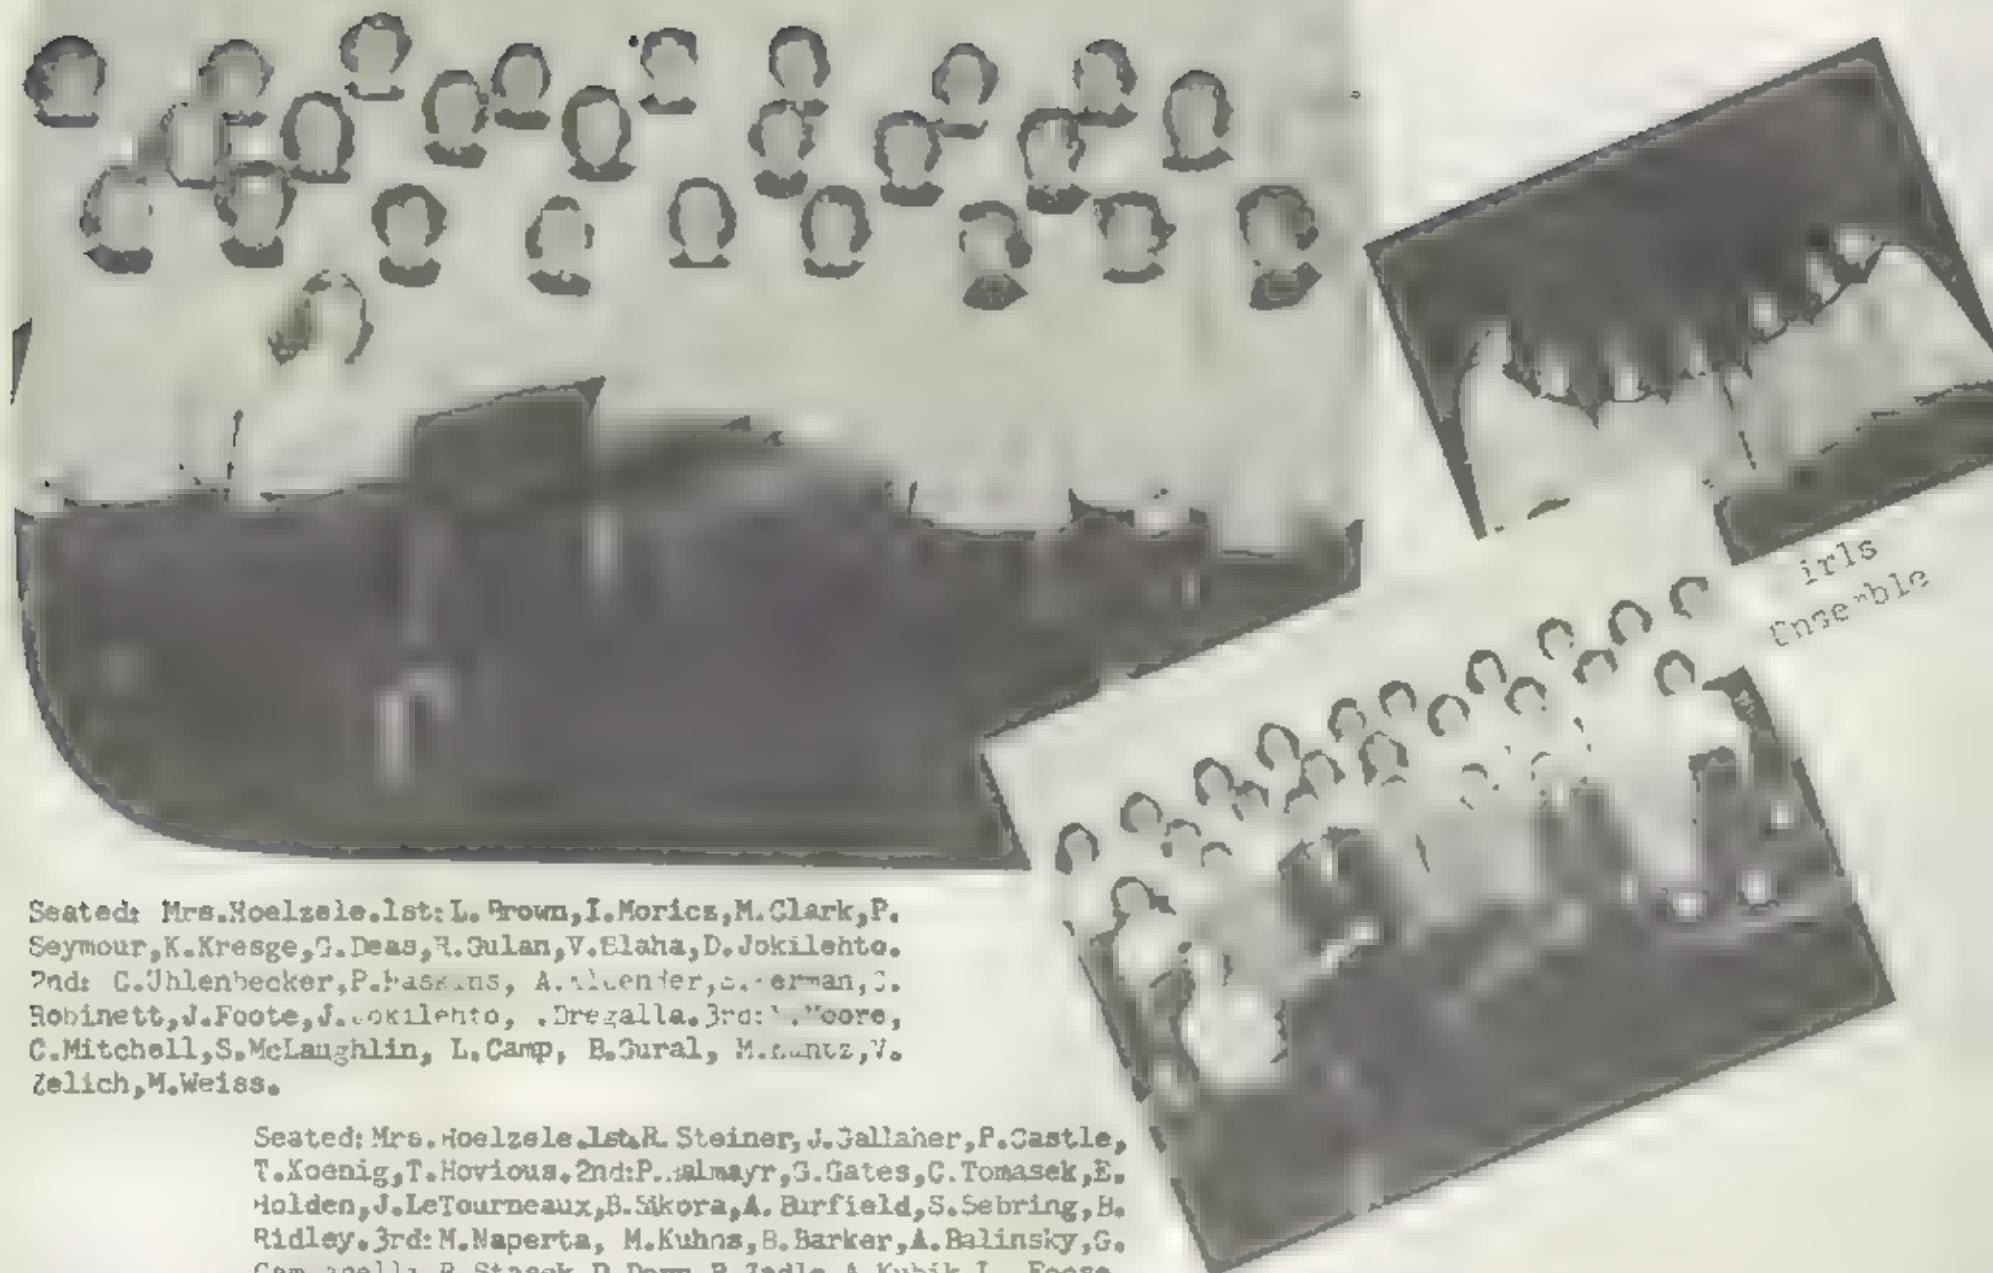

Thus you see what a great boon such a school store is to our students - not only in the amount of goods sold but in the experience gained.

The air was filled with music as the girl's glee club prepared for their many performances. Their first presentation-Fred Waring's arrangement of the Nutcracker Suite staged for the PTA Christmas Program.

March found thirteen girls traveling to Alliance to perform in the annual music festival at Mount Union College.

Nancy Moore and Carole Mitchell received excellent ratings at the district solo and ensemble contest at Berea, becoming eligible for the State Contest at Otterbein. In the district contest at Cleveland Heights, the glee club received an excellent rating, to which goes the privilege of entering the State Contest.

The musical farewell of the 1951-52 year was their part in the Baccalaureate service for the graduates of the class of '52.

This year our band has reached goals which have taken years of hard practice not only for the band members but also for their director, Mr. Phillips.

During the middle of last year the Crescendo Club sponsored a drive to raise enough money to purchase new uniforms. The band members worked hard to make this drive a success by putting on concerts with the proceeds going toward the drive. The drive was a big success with different organizations in the school donating.

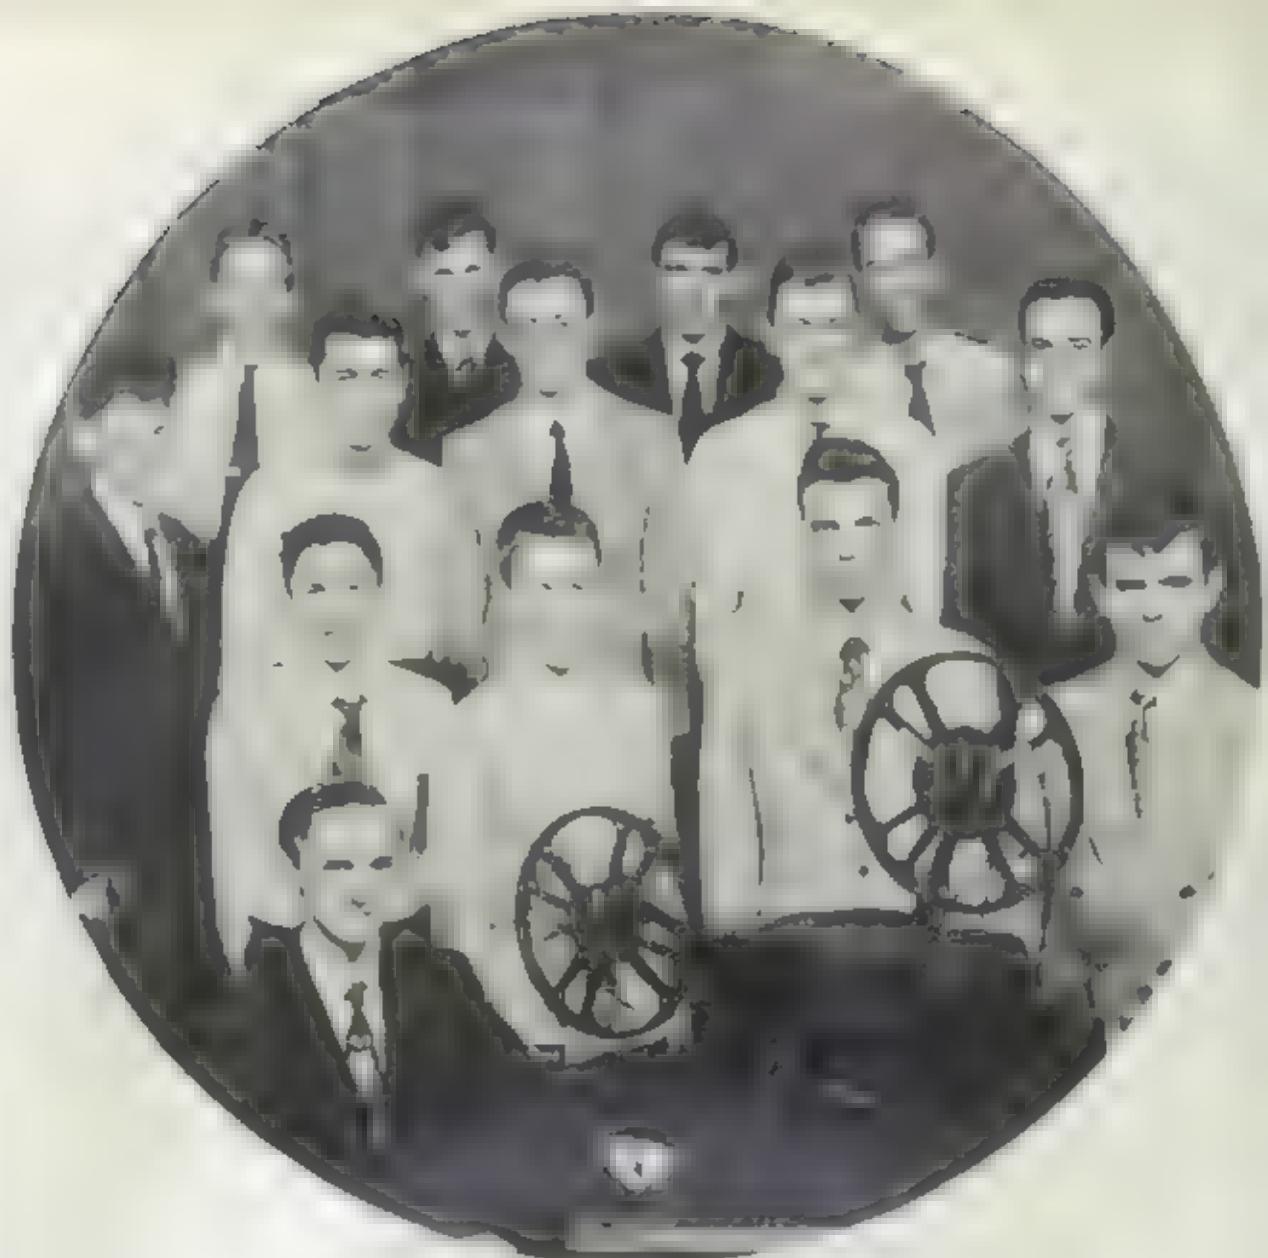

As football season rolled around the band proudly marched across the gridiron in their snappy new blue and gold uniforms. The band made a terrific hit with the fans by playing some of the more popular football music.

Later on in the year the concert band played at assemblies, concerts, and many other events. Perhaps the most important was the contest at Cleveland Hts. where they received a superior rating which entitled them to go to Columbus for the State Competition. They deserve great honors for their work.

"CELLULOID THEATER"

The A.V.A. (Audio-Visual-Aids) is a club which provides service to the school by showing movies at noon and in the classes. Some of the outstanding movies as "Abbot and Costello Meet the Killers", "Gung Ho", and "The Invisible Man Returns", thrilled the student body. Proceeds from these noon movies are donated to the school in order to help pay for assemblies. The main purpose of this club is to promote the interest and knowledge of the club members in showing movies and operating movie cameras.

Click! The shutter is snapped. The film is rushed to the darkroom, developed, and printed. And so, the Photo-Clicks gain valuable practical experience in the field of photography for themselves and others. Ample proof of their ability is the large number of snapshots appearing in this annual. Their president, Ronald Kuntz acting as student photographer for the 1952 Eaglet is responsible for them. That's just one of the results of their valuable club whose pledge is to increase the knowledge of photography to all students in the 9th to the 12th grades who become its members.

This year for the first time at Brooklyn two Junior Achievement Companies were formed. They are Jalco and Prospects Unlimited sponsored by Westinghouse Electric and Viking Air Conditioning. Jalco produced Television Lamps and Prospects Unlimited, Paper Packs. The purpose of these J.A. companies is to teach high school students how to run a company of their own. Each achiever learns something about production, sales, and management.

In one year of Junior Achievement the students have probably gained more business experience than they could have learned in several years in the business world. Anyone who worked hard in J.A. and benefited from it has a decided advantage in his first job.

"Author meets Critic"

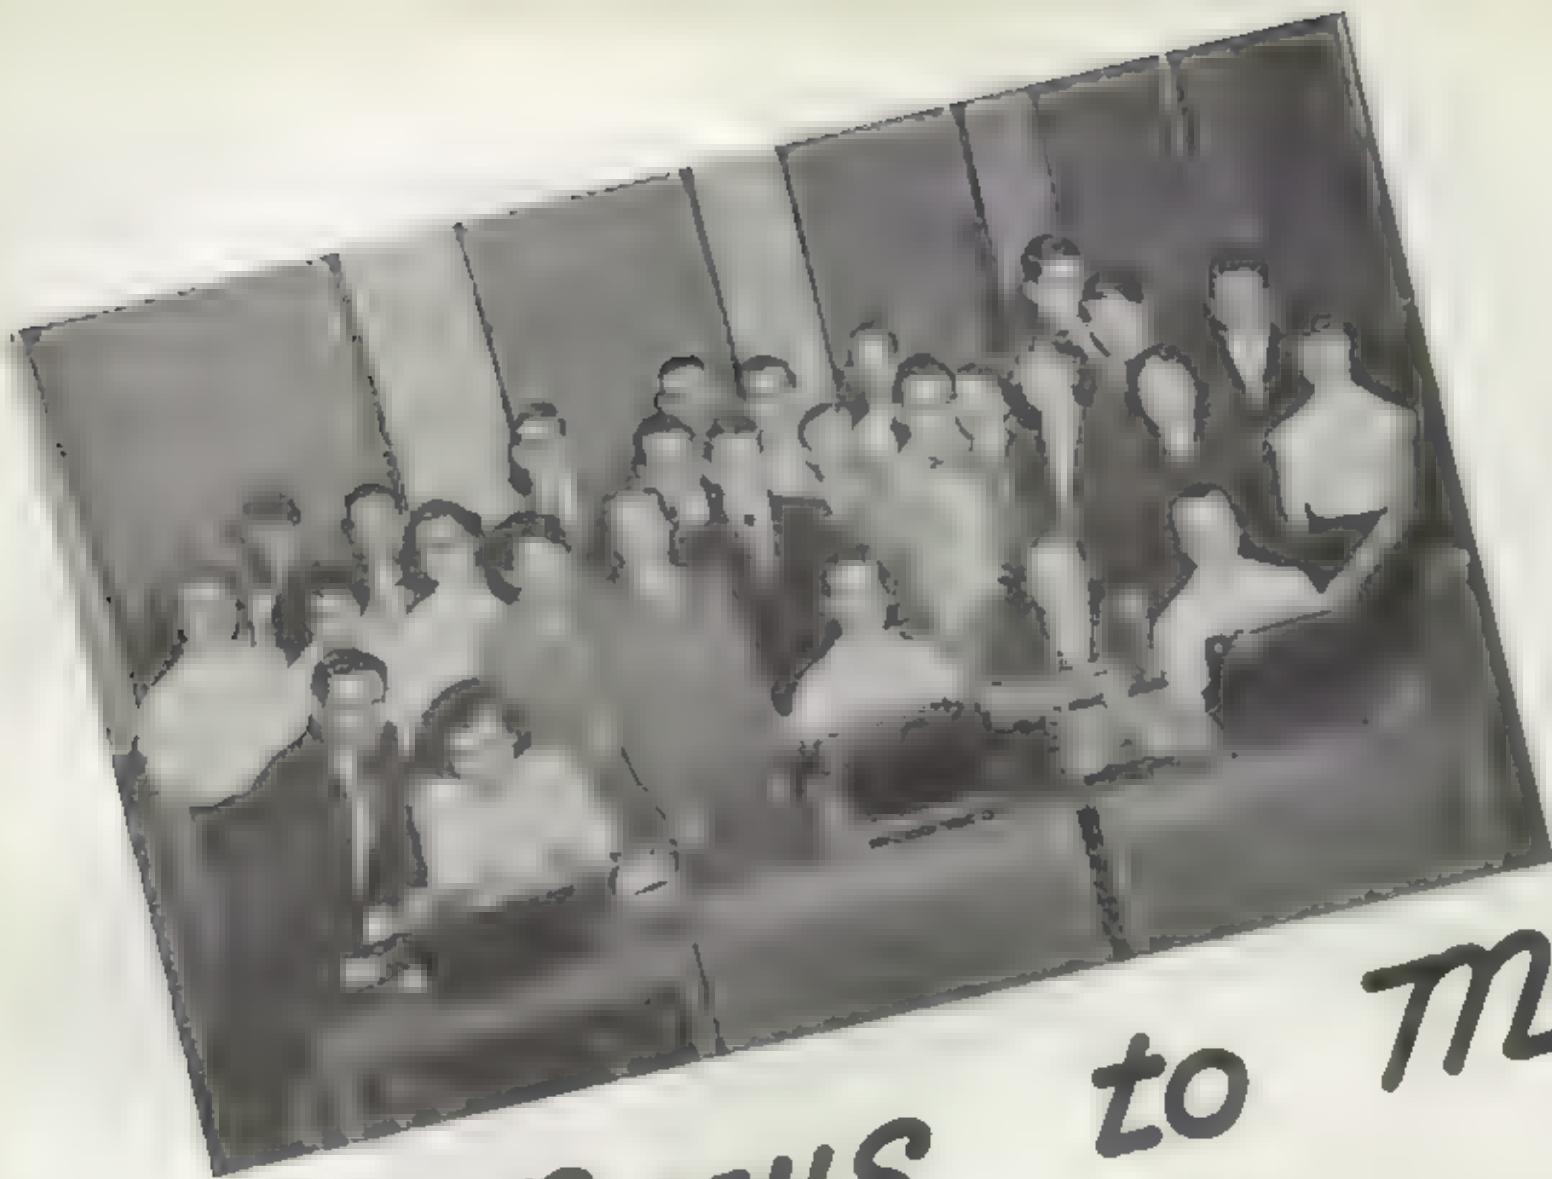

Setting a fast pace our Junior High Atomic Readers have been busy throughout the year with a number of activities planned for acquainting themselves and the entire student body with the library.

As their project for the year, the club voted to raise money, by selling candy, for a CARE book package. This would be sent to Europe to help relieve the critical shortage of educational reading material existing there.

To help promote interest in reading the club sponsored the Elementary Book Week Contest - winners receiving books of their own selection.

Their program included visits to libraries, and book reviews with a picnic to complete the year.

Always striving towards "better citizenship," the 1951-'52 student council found itself involved in many worth-while projects.

The council reinforced the hall guard system at Brooklyn. It initiated a much-to-be-commended "Citizenship Week" in which cleanliness, personal appearance, courtesy and respect, class preparedness were stressed. It played host to visiting student councils and served in the hat-check room during basketball games.

Mixing fun with its work the council also stages the "Basketball throw" at the school carnival and, on the social side, successfully sponsored its annual April dance this year named "The Spring Frolic."

Whatever its project, the student council meets all its problems mindful that they are representing the entire student body and therefore must set the example and daily live the citizenship it purposed. 57

One cast is assembled - the director raises his arm, and the production begins. But what of the endless hours of preliminary work that make its production possible? Too many never forget about these important, yet virtually unknown, cogs in the machinery of a big production.

Want to meet them? All Right! here they are!

Our annual staff began early in the year, and kept busy with write-ups, advertisements, layout, typography, art, and typing, all the while gaining valuable and practical experience in these fields.

Spark plug of the group was our untiring advisor, Miss Helen Hurst. Her ceaseless efforts and ideas stimulated the staff until they reached their goal in producing the yearbook.

The equally untiring efforts of the literary advisor, Mr. Robert Jones, and the advertising advisor, Mr. Jerold Cahill, greatly aided in the production. Without this help, the annual could have never been completed.

Mr. Haller, Don Brown, and the Assistant Editor, Eugene Peter, spurred the staff with their ceaseless vitality. They planned and replanned the production until it was ready to go on the air.

The literary committee, headed by Rita Haller, wrote scenes, setting what is going on in various studios. Write-ups play a very important part in a product.

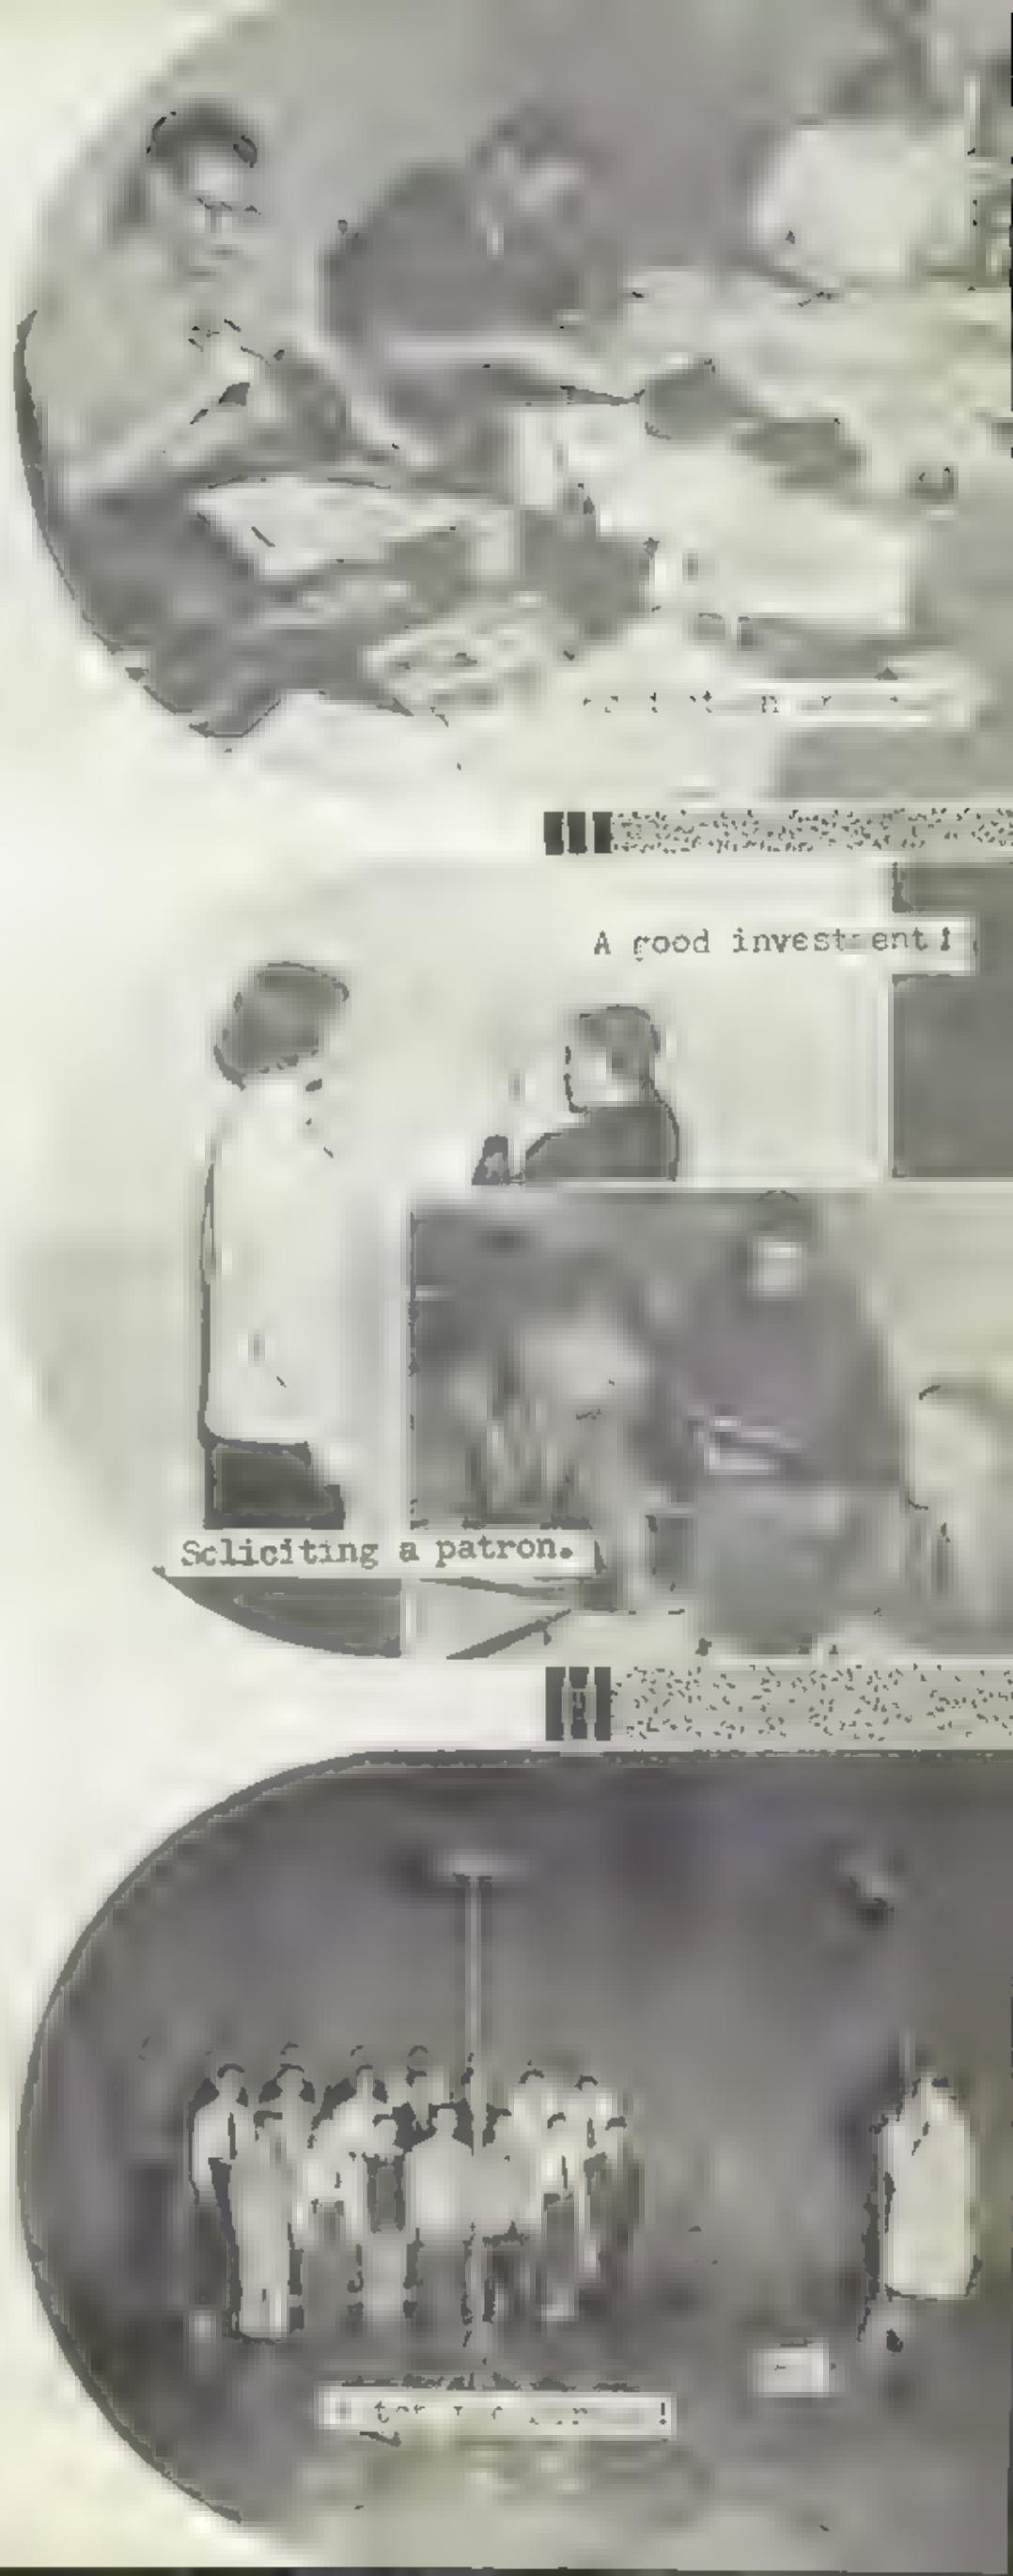

The sports editor, headed by Editor Terry Cesarone, and Assistant Editor, Bill Cran, presented an accurate and concise report of sports in and around Brooklyn.

The art editor, Bill Cran, helped in planning, directing, developing, and clearing up excellent snapshots captured by important and interesting events for all to see.

Sales, which is a necessary part of any radio, started off in high gear. Supervised by manager, Walter Hamilton, the advertising committee vigorously surveyed the Brooklyn area.

The typing staff, headed by Irene Moricz, began work as soon as the first article was written and spent many long hours in the typing room.

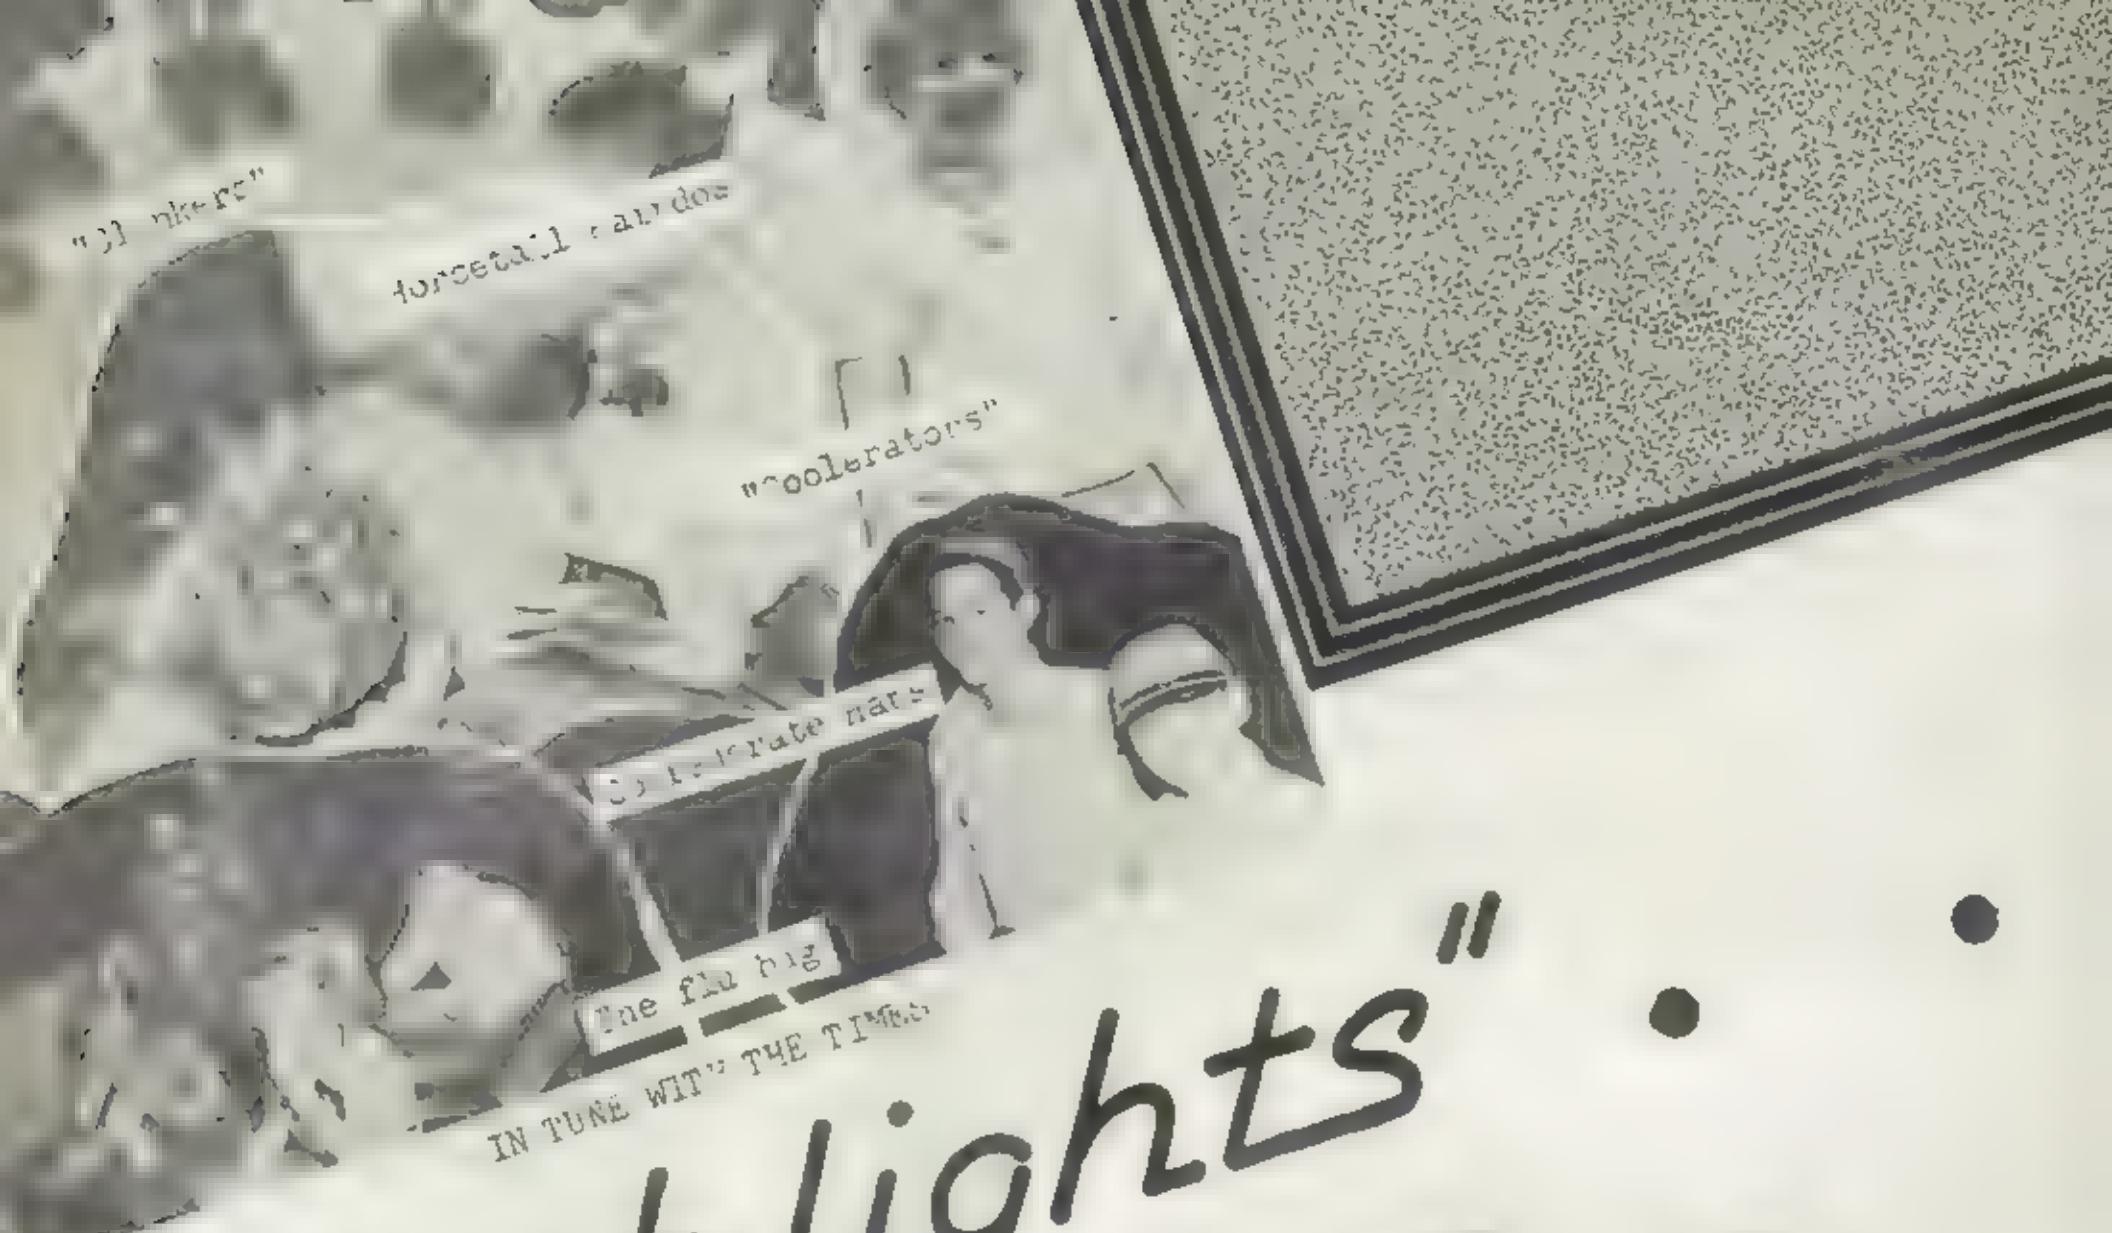

Coordinating all these efforts was one of the main objects, however, for the entire staff fully realized the importance of close cooperation in successfully staging such a big production as the 1952 Eaglet.

A good investment!

MEN'S ATHLETIC BOOSTERS CLUB

The Annual Banquet, which was held on May 11, 1952, marked the end of another successful year for the Brooklyn Village Men's Athletic Boosters Club.

Throughout the year, the Boosters Club conducted a scrap drive, Halloween party for the children of the village, a Dad's Night for the fathers of the football players, and a Junior High Recognition Social.

During the early part of May, the Boosters Club presented a series of plays and raffled off a dryer. Not only the Junior High, but also the Varsity Football and Basketball teams benefited to the extent of receiving new uniforms, through the efforts of the Booster Club.

The Boosters Club expects to find the Year 1953 to be one of great activity, insofar as the athletic teams of the High and Junior High are concerned.
